Nightpost

Going out takes five apps and one friend who pays.

Nightpost turns it into one flow: from “let’s meet” to a settled bill, in one chat.

TODAY

Five apps, and one friend pays for everyone.

Built: in build 17 (map, people by consent, route, one-to-one pay in chat on devnet). This week: build 18, due 12 Oct. Later: desktop agent with reports and fingerprint approvals on the phone.

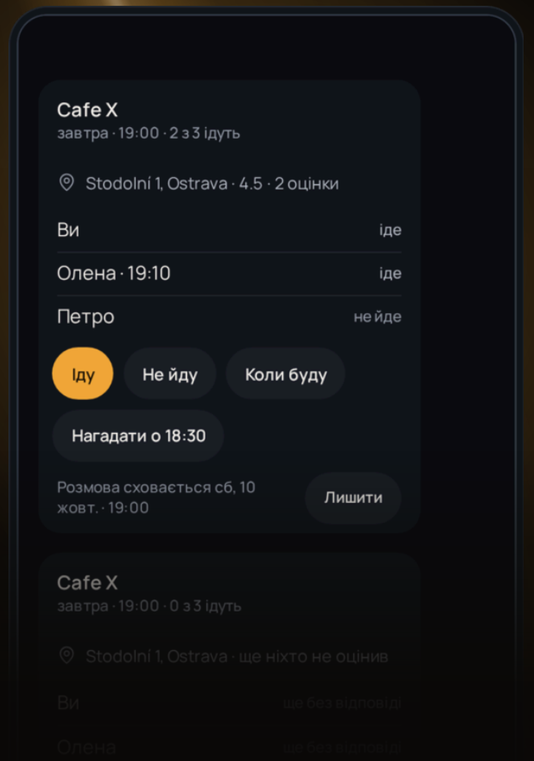

REAL SCREENS

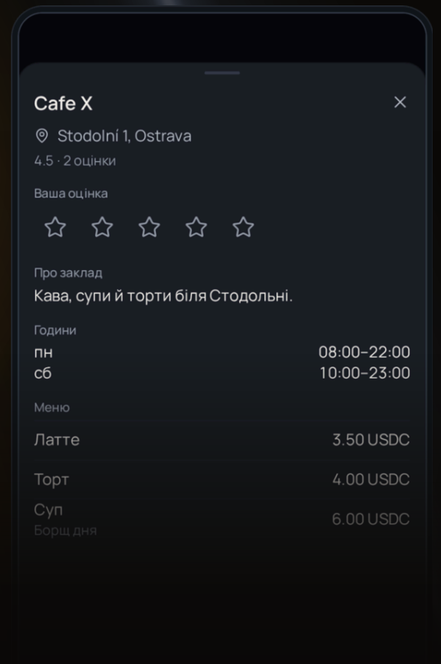

Talk, map and pay run today.
The meetup lands this week.

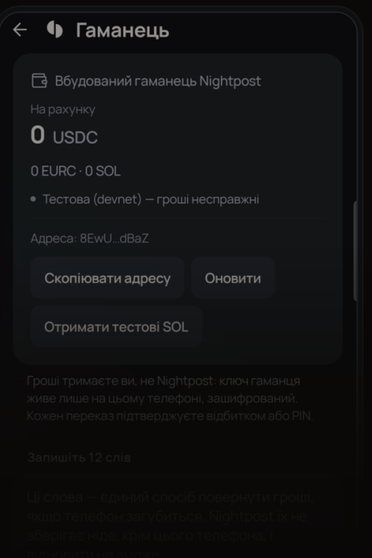

- Chats, no number
- Map and your people
- Meetup card
- Venue and menu
- Wallet on devnet

- Groups of 32
- Voice notes
- Polls
- Reminders
- Assistant drafts
- Phone and PC

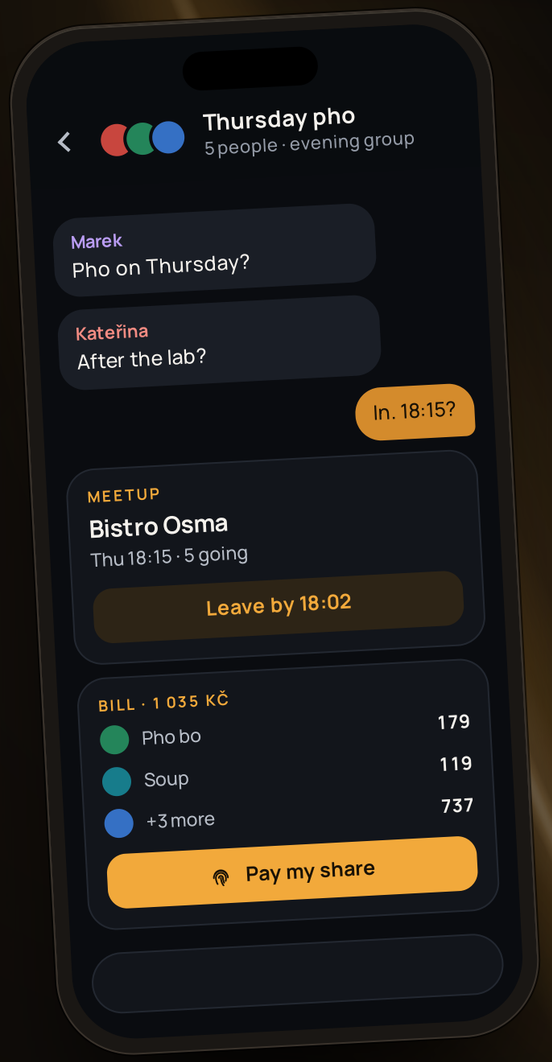

Green: build 16 captures on a Galaxy A52. Amber: build 18 components from the working branch, 8 Oct, test data, not yet on a phone. Ukrainian UI; money on devnet only.

WHY ONE FLOW

Money lives where the plan was made.

1. One card: place, time, people
2. Each pays their own dishes
3. Nobody chases the money

- Pay in chat
- Split and shares

Build 18 design, drawn in code with the app's tokens, not a capture. Bistro Osma is an example venue. Shares settle in EURC or USDC on devnet.

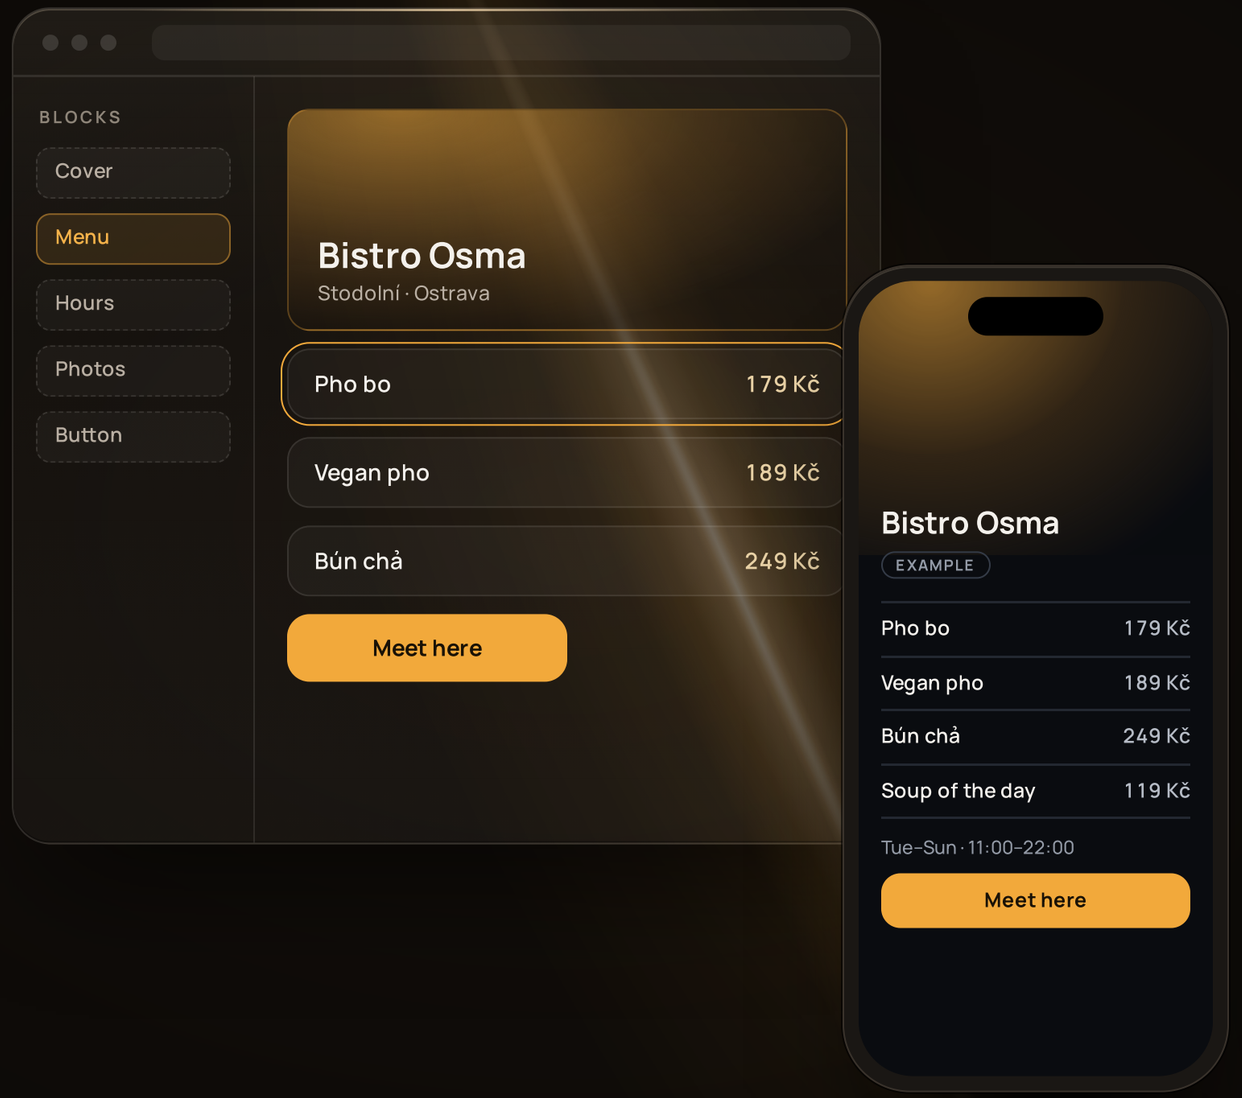

FOR VENUES

A venue page without code. It pays after a paid visit.

€1–4

per paid diner,
invoiced in fiat

- Builder page and menu
- Venue fee · basic page free

Users pay nothing. No cut inside the payment before legal advice (PSD2). Drawn in code; Builder ships in build 18.
